This catalog has been printed on special paper, designed for permanence. The Glatfelter Paper Mill of Spring Grove, Pennsylvania supplied the paper, which is Alkaline Sized, acid-free, and with a pH above 7. Under normal usage, this will counteract acidic exposures harmful to permanency which may originate from environmental factors or handling. This is a long-lasting paper whose indicated life expectancy exceeds three centuries.

INTRODUCTION

This catalog is the first published volume of the complete family histories and genealogies in the collection of the DAR Library since 1940. It is volume one of a projected set of two or three catalogs. The Library's ''Reclassification Project'', begun in 1980, arranges the books to reflect the subject content of the collection, family histories and genealogies, state and local histories and general works covering more than one family or state.

The Library's holdings of family histories and genealogies as of March 15, 1982 are listed in this catalog. These listings provide the most important information from the card catalog in the Library Reading Room.

GENERAL POLICIES OF THE DAR LIBRARY

The Library is entirely a reference library, and no material of any kind may be borrowed from it in person or on inter-library loan. The Library is open to the public Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 4:00 pm. It is closed during part of April and May for the DAR's annual meeting, Continental Congress, and may be closed on Mondays in the summer. Please check on the hours before planning a trip from a distance. There is a daily fee for Library users who are not members of the DAR.

The staff of the Library cannot undertake research. Mail orders for photocopies can only be filled for DAR members. Members should identify themselves by furnishing their national number and chapter name. The staff must have a title, author, year of publication of the volume, and the page numbers to be copied as well as the catalog number if you refer to a book listed in this volume. Since photocopying may damage old or rare books, the Staff Librarian reserves the right to refuse to copy such material. Please write to the Library for current photocopying policies concerning price and limit of pages.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This volume is the combined effort of many persons on the staff of the DAR. Others deserving thanks include the staff of Library Systems & Services, Inc. from whom we leased the MiniMarc Computer used in this project. The staff of Port City Press has been most helpful in preparing the final bound volume. The art for the end papers is an original pen and ink drawing by Dr. William D. Michaels.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

This book catalog has two main parts. First is the listing of the family histories and genealogies in the Family Section of the Library. Second is the two separate indexes to the family histories and genealogies, an author index and a surname index.

Main listing of family histories and genealogies

The titles in this section are listed alphabetically by principal surname. This corresponds to the alphabetical arrangement of the actual books on the Library's shelves. The family books from the General Section of the Library are included at the end of this part of the catalog in a separate alphabetical sequence.

A sample entry from the main listing looks like this:

00038 ADAMS — Adams, Arthur
Jeremy Adams of Cambridge, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., and his descendants.—Boston, Mass.: Adams?, 1955.—45 p.: coat of arms; 23 cm. —Index Reprinted with additions and corrections from the Yearbooks of the Atlantic County (New Jersey) Historical Society for 1950, 1951, and 1952.

(1) The catalog number is that which the computer assigned to the book and its record in the catalog. This is not a call number and will not help you find the book on the shelf. It is, however, used in our index at the end of this book to help you locate books in this catalog.
(2) Principal surname or main family which is the subject of the book.
(3) Author or compiler's name. If the book has neither, this space is blank.
(4) Title of the book.
(5) Publication information including place of publication, publisher, and date of publication or copyright.
(6) Additional descriptive information on the book including number of pages, illustrations, height of the book in centimeters and other important features.

Author Index and Title Index

This section indexes the main listings by giving an author's name and indicating the catalog numbers for each book the Library owns by this individual. A sample section looks like this:

Achey, Fred A.	00402
Acker, George H.	00022
Ackerman, Charles E.	00023
Ackerman, Herbert S.	01172, 05506
Ackerman, Herbert Stewart ...	00024, 12365, 12830
Ackerman, Louise Magaw	11253

Check all variant spellings of an author's name. If there is more than one author, this index will only list the first one appearing on a book's title page.

Alphabetizing in this catalog has several slight adjustments resulting from the way a computer reads characters. Computers read letter by letter, character by character and ignore spaces and capitalization. They read a comma as if it were a letter before A thereby placing entries without a comma after those with commas. These variations will upset a strict alphabetical order that a human would arrange.

The final part of the Catalog, the Surname Index, is another index to the Main Listing. As in the Author Index, the five digit number (or numbers) that follows each surname in the index is a Catalog number which refers you to the Main Listing. This index is not intended as a complete list of all the surnames from the family books. The only surnames included in this index are those family names used as subject headings in our Library card catalog. For practical reasons, there is a maximum of ten such subjects for most books.

Please remember that the surnames listed represent only the books in the Family section of the Library and the family books from the General Section of the Library. The remaining two volumes of the Catalog, which will list the books in the State and Local History Sections of the Library, will have additional surname references.

A sample section from the Surname Index looks like this:

ADAMS . 00036, 00038, 00039, 00040, 00041, 00042, 00043, 00045, 00050, 00051, 00052, 00054, 00055, 00056, 00057, 00058, 00059, 00062, 00063, 00065, 00066, 00068, 00069, 00071, 00072, 00088, 00172, 00517, 01096, 01131, 01501, 02278, 03303, 03858, 04139, 04255, 04263, 04269, 06295, 06599, 06624, 07301, 07444, 07995, 08087, 08273, 09080, 09103, 09127, 09218, 09643, 09719, 09855, 09881, 09896, 10039, 10271, 11121, 11298, 11530, 11643, 12360, 13159, 13198, 14127, 14191

Once again, there are many variant spellings of surnames. In the above example, a surname followed by a state name indicates that the family resided primarily in that state.

Although every effort has been made to proofread and check for errors at each step in the preparation of this catalog, mistakes will appear. A computer is a valuable tool for performing many jobs, but it will record and often magnify minor errors which humans have overlooked. The Library Staff accepts full responsibility for any such errors in the catalog—including inadvertent misspellings and other typographical lapses. Any major corrections that are called to our attention will be included in subsequent volumes of the Catalog.

ERRATA

The following list of corrections to be made in the main listing of this Catalog does not claim to be complete. Every effort has been made, however, to call to your attention errors in the spelling of proper names which would result in an entry being significantly out of alphabetical order. Some other errors in the spelling of authors' names occur which have not been altered or called specifically to your attention. The thinking behind this is that they are, in effect, just another of the "variant" forms of an author's name. Many other obvious typographical errors exist, but we hope that they will not prove an inconvenience. In addition, and because the main text and indexes of the catalog were printed by a computer, strange looking symbols such as a Λ or a ρ occasionally appear. Please ignore them as they have no significance.
